Application: Law and Society Minor

The Minor in Law in Society is an interdisciplinary minor based in the Sociology Department at GWU. It is selective; students must have a minimum GPA of 3.3 and completion of at least 30 credit hours at GW. (Exceptions may be made on a case by case basis, e.g. transfer student.) Declare the minor directly with Dr. Fran Buntman (fbuntman@gwu.edu), the Director of the Law and Society Minor. Complete these forms and include an unofficial transcript with these application/declaration materials.

Guidelines for SOC 2988, for interested students and faculty supervising the students:

The Law and Society internship, SOC 2988, requires that students work for an agency, organization, or business engaged in law that allows the intern to understand, experience, or engage with law in a meaningful and substantive way. The internship should enable practical or applied learning about one or more dimensions of law. Internships may be paid or unpaid but may not be merely or mostly clerical. For this three-credit course, the student should complete a minimum of 15 hours of work for their internship.

In addition to the internship, students are required to complete complimentary academic work substantively related to the internship. The typical product is a research paper of at least 15 pages. Faculty have the discretion to offer alternative complimentary academic components, e.g. two shorter papers, presentation, or podcast. Faculty may also factor in internship hours worked or the type of work the student is completing for the external employer. Mutually agreed upon goals and products between the faculty supervisor and student are encouraged to enhance student learning.

To take SOC 2988, students need the following:

1. A suitable internship.

2. A faculty member who is willing to supervise the academic portion of the internship.
   - The faculty advisor does not have to be a professor in Sociology, nor be a full-time instructor. There is no compensation for the faculty advisor.

3. Fill out an RTF-EZ* and submit it to the registrar – registrar@gwu.edu – from your GW email.
   - The class is usually taken pass/no pass, but may be taken for a grade with the agreement of the supervising faculty member. Choose the correct ‘Grade Mode’ on the RTF.
   * In rare cases such as a late deadline or choosing to take the class for a letter grade, an RTF classic, not an RTF-EZ must be used, and submitted to CCAS.
   - If the supervising faculty member requests it, the RTF or RTF-EZ can be signed by the Director of the Law and Society program.

4. Mutual written agreement between the supervising faculty member and the student on the requirements for the academic portion of the internship.

The minimum requirements for the faculty supervisor are to identify:

1. The complimentary academic work required e.g. research paper, including length, or alternative product.
2. The required communication over the semester, e.g. weekly, monthly, or bi-semester meetings.
3. The end of semester deadline.

Faculty supervisors may have additional requirements, such as weekly journals or contact between the on-site internship supervisor and the faculty supervisor.

Both students and faculty may wish to consult with the requirements of CCAS 2154, for a comparable framework of an internship completed for academic credit. Some prompts from the CCAS 2154 application form are noted below; these might be useful for students or faculty in thinking about the structure and content of SOC 2988.

1. What tentative topics/proposals do you have for your research paper?
2. What books, articles, publications, etc. will you read relevant to your internship?
3. How often will you meet with your Faculty Advisor?
4. Discuss the nature of your internship and describe your specific responsibilities.
5. How does this internship complement your academic studies at the Columbian College?
6. What are your specific learning objectives for this internship and in what ways will this experience allow you to accomplish those objectives?

Footnotes:

*No more than two courses from a department may be used to fulfill this minor, except SOC 2988, if chosen.

As university course offerings change regularly, if students identify additional or alternative electives which they believe may be appropriate for the Law and Society Minor, they are welcome to identify those to the Director to request that class be considered a suitable class for credit in the minor. If changes to the requirements in the University Bulletin are allowed but not listed on this form, it is the student’s responsibility to ensure that these changes are communicated officially to the Undergraduate Advising Office.

Departmental Approval(s)

Please note: Certain departments may require a faculty advisor’s approval in addition to that of the department.
