Dr. Flores will discuss “Gender on the Run: Wanted Latinas in a Southern California Barrio,” published in Feminist Criminology. The experiences of 50 Latina girls in the connected programs between “El Valle” Juvenile Detention Center and “Legacy” Community School reveal the accelerated fusion of California schools and institutions of confinement. The well-intentioned wraparound services designed to provide the girls with support may more closely resemble the phenomenon of wraparound incarceration. Despite leaving the detention center, the girls cannot escape the surveillance of formal detention and are thereby slowly pushed away from traditional schooling and a productive life course.
