This panel focuses on the memorialization of the Jewish and Roma victims of the Holocaust in East and Central Europe. The speakers will examine ways in which victims and events are represented, and sometimes misrepresented, in national memory and memorials.

Professor Kucia will discuss his project on "Holocaust Memorials in Eastern Europe: Communist Legacies, Transnational Influences, and National Developments."

Professor Kelso will discuss her work on “Roma and the Contested Politics of Memory and Memorialization in Romania.”

Professor Eglitis will moderate the discussion.